Metelytsia Dancers present Spring Showcase

Elk Point's Metelytsia Ukrainian Dance Club presented their 2002 Spring Showcase to a delighted audience on Sunday, May 5. Dance Club president Jeannie Kwasnycia welcomed the crowd and said "we are very proud of our dancers and the work they have done this year."

The traditional bread-and-salt welcome dance, the Pryvit, brought all the dancers on stage in the costumes of various regions. The Senior group started off the afternoon with a foot-stomping Bukovynski Zabava, which earned them silver medals at their most recent competition in North Battleford. Junior Level IIIB also brought back silver from that competition, for the Tropotianka, a fast-stepping Transcarpathian dance which was next on the program.

The Level I Beginners were billed as "Little Cuties" and that's just what they were, as they danced their way into the hearts of the audience with a delightful number. The Junior Level IIIA, although one member short, did a fine job of the Poltava Ditu, which earned them gold in North Battleford. This was the first season of character dance for the Junior Level II, who were also one dancer short for their entertaining Lollipop dance.

The tremendous talent nurtured by a total of 98 dancer-years of training was evident in the Seniors' Volyn dance known as the Hoolia Hoolia Hoolianochka, which earned them 90% and silver medals in North Battleford with its high kicking enthusiasm.

Junior Level IIIB also won silver with their Korobushka, as did Junior Level IIIA with their Transcarpathian dance, which were next on the program. Junior Level II, with the exciting Kozachok, and the Seniors with their flirtatious Transcarpathian Zakarpattia wound up the first half of the concert.

The second half showed an original Ukrainian version of a classic fairytale. Jasmine Brown had the starring role in "Snow White and the Nine Hutzul Dwarfs," with Addison Bartholomew as the handsome prince. Kirsty Lindquist was the deliciously evil queen, who sent her faithful servant (Travis Lindquist) out to do away with Snow White, who supplanted the queen as fairest of them all. Snow White's adventures in the forest found her cavorting with a bevy of bunnies and other sweet little wildlife, and surrounded by a ballet of graceful water nymphs, before meeting nine Hutzul woodcutters, who offer her their hospitality. The faithful servant couldn't complete his mission, so the queen turned into an ugly witch with the help of a magic potion, and set out to feed Snow White a poisoned pyrohy. The woodcutters were distraught to see their new friend collapse, and were about to give up hope when the handsome prince returns to awaken her and start their new life together.

The concert concluded with the Community Choir encourages spring with concert

Elk Point Community Choir presented their 12th annual Spring Concert Friday night, and for the first time, it arrived sooner than spring-like weather. Fifty-two voices combined in a program ranging from Scottish melodies to 1950s rock, show tunes to spirituals as they encouraged spring to make its appearance.

The concert was dedicated to the late John Mohyluk, a member of the choir who passed away in February of this year, but who is "forever in our hearts," said Don Conrad.

The choir opened the program with an a cappella number, "Waiting for the Light," with soloist Kerry Anderson. An old Scottish favorite, "My Heart's in the Highlands," was followed by "Mansions in the Sky," with soloists Ruth Pugh and Udo Mueller. The ladies of the choir ended the set with "Please Mr. Postman," featuring mother and daughter soloists Barb and Chelsea Buryn.

Beginning composer Chelsea then moved to the piano to perform an original solo, entitled "If You Be With Me."

Six singers of Harmony, Kim Beardy, Shirley Osinchuk, Sarah Osinchuk, Laurie Keichinger, Cheryl Kurash and Kerry Anderson, showed their adaptability with Patsy Cline's "Crazy," followed by a southern gospel number, "Satisfied."

Kerry Anderson's incredible soprano soared in "The Lord's Prayer" and a rousing spiritual, "So High."

The men of the choir kept things on a southern note when they returned with "Old Man River," the solo in this number from Rogers and Hammerstein's "Showboat" by Shaun Sheplaw.

The whole choir bopped to Barb Buryn's piano accompaniment in "Sea Cruise," then moved to calmer waters of "The Lake Isle of Innisfree," featuring solos by Dixie Coleman and Linda Peters. Still on the water theme, they wound up the first half of the concert with "Like A River," accompanied on flute by Laurie Keichinger and Kelsey Mueller.

Barb Buryn announced the winner of this year's choir bursary. Megan Desaulniers, a Grade 9 student at Glen Avon School in St. Paul will

An Elk Point man died early Sunday after his 1987 Ford Mustang rolled on Lakewood Road, 4 km north of Highway 28. Curtis Richard Aubee, 26, was ejected from his vehicle in the crash and was pronounced dead at the scene. He was the lone occupant of the vehicle, and was not wearing a seat belt.

Chamber sets top priorities

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce explored results of their recent survey on community revitalization, and set priorities for the implementation of the top three items on the list.

Topping the list was relocation of the Tourist Information Centre, while #2 was the hole next door to the Burger Bar. Tied for #3 were two facets of the appearance of the town - revamping of the signs along the highway and getting vacant buildings on Main Street occupied or looked after.

"I think it was a good start," said Shirley Harms, who tabulated the results and said the committee thought "if we focus on two or three and get them done, then we can focus on the rest."

A traffic signal light was not in the top three, but was the most important concern for the companies with the most employees, according to survey results. The Chamber hopes to meet with the companies to discuss their concerns.

Some cost figures have been determined on moving the TIC, but costs of installing services to the proposed site near Peter Fidler could be very high. A site near the Town's RV dump along Highway 41 is also being considered. Further figures will be obtained by the next meeting.

Town Manager Myron Goyan noted that little can be done about the hole along Highway 41, because of Department of Environment testing which decrees it stay open until concerns with the site are eliminated.

Walkers raise $972.93 for vision research

There may have been only eight walkers in this year's Journey for Sight, but the Elk Point and District Lions Club are still pleased with the results, which netted $972.93 for vision research.

Stacy Dunham, who chaired the organizing committee, called the Journey "another success. We had nice support." He thanked his fellow Lions for their assistance, the Elk Point Volunteer Fire Department and Elk Point and District Ambulance for controlling traffic and making the route safer for walkers, Ron Smith and Home Town Grocers for the refreshments and Footprints Subs and Arcade for gift certificates which went to the walkers.

This year's youngest participant was five year old Jazmine Voutour, with 13 year old Catherine Campbell the youngest walker to complete the 10 km route.

The oldest and fastest walker, completing the route in one hour flat, was Jim Hawkins. He and Catherine were both part of the F. G. Miller High School team which raised $450 for the School Challenge trophy. David McNamara accepted the Oil Patch Challenge trophy on behalf of CNRL, the first win for that company.

Nina McNamara collected the highest amount of pledges as an individual, $205.75.

Also taking part in the 2002 Journey for Sight were Victoria Voutour, Raquel Germain and Elana Yaremkevich.

ORGANIZERS, WALKERS AND VOLUNTEERS all helped to make the 2002 Lions Journey for Sight a success. Accompanying the walkers on their 10 km trek were two four-legged participants, Pepper Campbell and Winston McNamara.

More to emergency preparedness than meets the eye

It's Emergency Preparedness Week, a time to consider all the agencies and services which stand ready to serve the community's needs in a time of disaster or emergency.

We don't generally think about all the services it takes to cope with a major emergency, and many people may not even know that a community must have a disaster services plan in place. This plan lists what the involvement of each part of the community's disaster services team would be, and outlines the chain of command which is set in motion in a time of need.

It isn't just the obvious emergency services - fire department, police, ambulance, physicians and health centre - who make up the team, either. The Town administration and staff have roles to play, from setting up barricades and turning off water mains, to setting up communications centres. Utility companies, oil and oil-field service companies, and a long lineup of volunteers could all have a role to play, depending on the type of emergency that occurs. All must know their role, and be prepared to carry it out when needed.

This week, we will be given an opportunity to find out more about one of our most important emergency services. The Elk Point Volunteer Fire Department is holding an open house at the fire hall on Thursday from 3 p.m. to 7 p.m., in conjunction with the Hazardous Waste Round-Up jointly sponsored by the Town and Anadarko. You are welcome to stop by and meet the firefighters, tour the recently renovated fire hall, and learn more about what it's like to be a firefighter.

Don't forget to check your cupboards, garage and basement for hazardous household waste, and bring it down at the same time for safe disposal. This simple task could prevent mishaps ranging from a fire to the poisoning of a pet or family member, and keep you from having to deal with an emergency of your own.

Emergency preparedness is something we can work on in our own homes and businesses, as well, by having lists of emergency numbers by each phone, by having a well-stocked first aid kit and at least one fire extinguisher on hand, and by making and practicing a home evacuation plan. Safety is a year-round priority, and so is being prepared for any emergency that might come up.

Happy Mother's Day!

SPRING IS IN FULL BLOOM at Meadowview Greenhouses and Garden Centre, these new Lilac Wave Petunias putting on a great show in time for Mother's Day.

■ Think Spring!

It's time for spring cleaning of your body and soul

By Carol Moro

Take Off Pounds Sensibly

Spring, with its fresh warm breezes, budding flowers and newly-green leaves, provides an irresistible impulse toward renewal. Let this impulse spur you to make changes that will improve your health and refresh your mind. For instance:

■ Try one new approach at dinnertime this week - maybe experimenting with a vegetable you've never tried, or serving a meatless meal, or preparing a low-fat version of an old favorite.

■ You know all those old clothes hanging in the back of the closet, that you haven't worn in 12 months? Chances are you will never wear them. So pack them up for your favorite charity, then give your closet a good airing-out.

■ At least once a week, take a walk on a route that gets you close to nature. Observe the changes in the landscape as spring unfolds.

■ Switch to lighter-colored clothing, especially in garments worn close to your face. It'll boost your mood and make everything seem lighter and brighter.

■ Look for excuses to sneak a bit of outdoor activity into your daily routine: the dog needs a romp... there's a rummage sale a few blocks away you could walk to... the local botanical garden beckons for a lunchtime stroll.

■ When the weather allows, serve a meal on your patio or deck. Fresh surroundings can make even the simplest meal more enjoyable.

Mother's Day is Sunday

The woman whose 1907 grass-roots movement to create Mother's Day culminated in its official proclamation in 1914 was never herself a mother, according to research done by Hallmark Cards. Miss Anna Jarvis, a Philadelphia schoolteacher, was inspired by her devotion to her own mother to found a day dedicated to honoring mothers. It was two years after her own mother's death that Miss Jarvis began spreading her idea. She wrote hundreds of letters seeking endorsement of the idea to congressional representatives, state governors, influential business people and to clergy.

In 1910, Anna Jarvis' tireless efforts were rewarded. The governors of the American states of West Virginia, Oklahoma and Washington proclaimed Mother's Day an official occasion. Within a year, Mother's Day was being observed throughout the United States.

Miss Jarvis achieved her final victory in 1914, when U. S. President Woodrow Wilson issued a proclamation directing the second Sunday in May as a day for public expression of love and reverence for mothers. The custom of observing Mother's Day quickly spread to Canada, where generations have celebrated it in the spirit Anna Jarvis first intended.

from the FCSS desk

At Miss Jarvis' suggestion, the carnation - her own mother's favorite - became the official flower of Mother's Day. To say thanks to our mothers with a card or with a carnation is a simple special way of saying: "Thanks, Mom!" So thank you, Miss Jarvis, for organizing the one special day that we take time to say our thanks to our Mothers.

All of us have mothers. Some of us become mothers when we foster, adopt or give birth to our children. This arrangement is forever. We don't really stop being mothers. All that love in the beginning is there for a very long time.

Art Urban said it this way. "A mother's love is like a circle, it has no beginning and not ending. It keeps going around and around, ever expanding, touching everyone who comes in contact with it. Engulfing them like the morning's mist, warming them like the noontime sun, and covering them like a blanket of evening stars. A mother's love is like a circle, it has no beginning and no ending." So, Happy Mother's Day to all our Mothers.

The Unlocked Door

When you were small
And just a touch away,
I covered you with blankets
Against the cool night air.
But now that you are tall
And out of reach,
I fold my hands
And cover you with prayer.

The second half of the show got off to a lively start, with the Singing Nuns from this spring's dinner theatre performance of The Sound of Music, with a few new recruits, as they sang a very "Sister Act" version of "Hail Holy Queen" under the direction of Kerry Anderson.

Shaun Sheplaw, singing "Music of the Night" from Phantom of the Opera, was followed by Kalli-Jo Coleman and Kelsey Mueller with a cute version of "Sisters." These two talented young ladies will be graduating from high school this year and will be leaving a big gap in the choir. Dixie Coleman added an Irving Berlin solo, "Cheek to Cheek," accompanied by Linda Peters. Kerry Anderson and Sarah Osinchuk sang "Be Still and Know", then took to the keyboard for a piano duet, "The Glorified March."

The choir returned for their final set, starting off with "Roots and Wings," Kim Beardy on clarinet, then put on their shades and snapped their fingers to "Study Hall Blues," led by soloist Joape Langejans.

Debbie Lawrence on guitar and Shirley Osinchuk and Cheryl Kyle on percussion added their accompaniment to "A Place in the Valley." Everyone put down their music books for the final number, a rousing "Swing Down Chariot," which they liked so well they did a repeat for their encore.

Conductor Udo Mueller thanked accompanist Deanna Easthope, page turner Lisa Braga and the choir for their tremendous dedication as another year came to an end, noting "I can't believe how fast the time has gone."

And now for our K.A. Campbell sports trivia. A reporter once informed Babe Ruth that his salary was higher than that of the president of the United States, Herbert Hoover. "I know," retorted Babe, "but I had a better year than Hoover."

Response Program

To alleviate forage shortages resulting from record dryness in parts of Alberta, Ducks Unlimited Canada (DUC) is increasing the amount of land it opens to grazing or haying under tendered short-term permits. As a partner on the landscape with agricultural landowners, DUC is also affected by reduced productivity on its conservation lands due to drought.

The waterfowl potential of DUC's lands is compromised but these areas will benefit producers as forage reserves in this time of extreme dryness. Due to existing agreements with landowners, not all lands available will be tendered. Revenue from the Drought Response Program will be reinvested locally into grazing or forage extension projects.

*Divide cow calf pair days by number of head (cow/calf pair) in your herd to determine days available for your herd. Days are calculated on the intake of an average 1300 lb. cow/calf pair.

- Please call the DUC contact to request a bid submission form for the land you are interested in bidding on. Only proper forms will be accepted.
- Submit hay bids on a $/Tonne basis and grazing bids on a $/cow/calf pair day by noon June 3rd, 2002 to the address of the DUC contact person. A cow/calf pair day is defined as daily rent for a 1300 lb. cow and calf.

- The accepted bid must be paid upon commencement of grazing or after baling and before bale removal.
- Haying will take place as soon as possible after the identified cut date and hay is to be removed from the field no later than two weeks after baling.

- Fence maintenance and water requirements will be the responsibility of the short-term permit holder. Unless noted, fences are in good condition.
- The highest, or any bid, may not be accepted.
- Bids will be accepted from producers owning or farming land within a 10 mile radius of the DUC land. For grazing, only locally owned cow/calf herds will be eligible.
- DUC reserves the right to restrict the amount of land allotted to an individual under short-term grazing or haying permits.
- The bidder is responsible for viewing the land prior to bidding. Foot access only is allowed when viewing the property.

what's NEWS at the LIBRARY?

New large print books added to our collection

By Daphne Schnurer
Librarian

A new block of large print books has been added to our collection, thanks to the generous support of the Friends of the Library.

Large print books have been available to readers since the early 1960s. They have restored the gift of reading to many visually impaired people. These books today are found in every English speaking library. Today's large print books on the outside are no different than a regular print book. Over the years, many improvements have been made, such as the addition of soft cover books, their light weight makes for easier handling. Many best sellers and "hot listed" books are readily available in large print. With the many improvements and increased availability and selection, these books are "great reads" for anyone.

Some of our new selections include:

Two westerns by Max Brand, The Overland Kid and The Peril Trek.

New romance novels: by Barbara Delinsky, Straight From the Heart and The Woman Next Door; by Grace

Livingston Hill, More Than Conqueror.

And last but not least, a few mysteries: Web of Intrigue by Susan Taggart, The Secret Octagon House by Jane Pearl and a Perry Mason mystery, The Case of the Lonely Heiress.

Seniors Tea today

Don't forget that the May Seniors Tea goes this afternoon at 2 p.m. Stop by the library for tea, goodies and great conversation. We'd love to have you join us!

You are who you choose to be

Kalynchuk (guitar skills), Mona McGinnis (sexuality/STDs); Cheryl Robertson (scrapbooking); Delhia Shah (Pakistan's culture); Shannon Leskiw (hunting safety); Cst. Orsten (dating safety); Brandi Yarmuch, Sarah Hillebrand and Sarah Baxter (Leos Club); Dave Mitchel (Search and Rescue); Joanne Muchka and Tracy Tillapaugh (friendship troubles); Melanie McRae (makeup tips); Roseanna McCarthy (basic Cree and native beading); Lesley Berlinguette (getting a summer job); Verona Lea Flanders (bath salts); Gerry White and Noah Cardinal (native awareness); Kim Reed (being stress free); Debbie, Neil and Joel Leckie (Karate); George Laskey (baseball skills clinic); Linda Crapley (fitness and weight lifting); Terry Senecal and Eric Larson (Archery); Geoff Bishop (golf) and Jim Hawkins (tennis).

Thanks to the parents: Tammy Anderson, Carol Lee, Chris Shankowski, Tammy Robinson, Germaine Labrie and Maureen Stewart for volunteering their time to assist in putting students into sessions on April 25 and to Bonnie Bresky, Edie Lowry, Kim Beady and Allan Loughran for assisting on May 3.

Thanks to the students: Carissa

Maksymec for assisting with all the little tasks that kept Wellness Day on schedule, Special thanks to Brian Poitras, Jason Kalynchuk, Brandi Yarmuch, Sarah Baxter and Joel Leckie for hosting sessions and to Melvin Easthope and Joel Leckie for assisting with the baseball skills clinic. You did a great job. Also thanks to Eleasha Lehr, Meaghan Lehr and Melanie Fayant for assisting at the welcoming table.

A special thanks to Doug Bassett for setting up the Baseball Skills Clinic.

We hope that everyone involved realized how much their time and energy is appreciated. If, by chance, we missed someone, please accept our apologies and thanks. The students and staff hope that you will choose to get involved with the next Wellness Day in 2004.

THANK YOU

BUGERA, Rosalie

The family of the late Rosalie (Rose) Bugera would like to extend our deepest gratitude and appreciation for the many expressions of support during the loss of our beloved wife, mother, grandmother and great-grandmother. A very sincere thank you to all of the friends, neighbors and relatives for your display of kindness through hospital visits, phone calls, baking, cards, floral arrangements, memorial donations, mass offerings and special gifts.

A special thanks to Dr. Ramful and Staff, the Elk Point Nursing Staff and The Heritage Lodge Staff for your kindness to our mom.

A special thanks to Reverend Father Roman Dobrianski for officiating and the kindness to our families.

Also thanks to the canters, singers, pallbearers, crossbearer, bannerbearers, Steve Seniuk & grave attendants.

Thanks to Bridget Smith and Kimberly Laansoo for delivering the Eulogy. Thank you to the St. Paul Co-op for lunch, the Empress Family Restaurant for the delicious dinner and the Elk Point Seniors Centre.

A special thanks to Caroline & John Yewchin & Staff of Yewchin's Funeral Chapel, St. Paul for the use of the Chapel, your guidance, help and friendly advice which we appreciated during our sorrow and loss.

May God Bless You All.

Andrew Bugera, Eddie & Maryann Bugera & Family, Helen Mudryk & Family.
